

Star - Drift Fantasia

Wong Lung Cheung

It was a peaceful and quiet night.
There was a meteor shower traveling across the universe
Suddenly, a shiny shooting star grazed me in passing
Whatever how I caught it, it always shirked me
Leaving without any valediction.....
When I dream of you,
Your graceful shadow never disappear until I wake up
After rubbing my sleepy eyes
The mirage will be eliminated just like the falling star...
Do you now how much I still miss you?
