

Lucy Diamond – For Bonnie Stacey Ng

Lift me up high, oh
Rock'n Roll Queen
Ring in my ears your
Silver—bell laughter,
Your frenzy electric guitar,
And shattering metallic spells
Give me a quick shot of
Your ethereal one kiss—
Won't you take me home tonight,
Superstar lover?
Drugstore cowgirl,
Spinning me giddy, giddy, giddy.
I open my eyes and you're gone— but
Haven't we known each other forever,
Journeyed through a dark decade into the next,
And speeding into eternity with no return?
Those were the days gone wild,
In memory of our glistening youth :
 'Lucy in the sky with diamonds' .

*Note : 'Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds' is a song by The Beatles from their album Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band (1967).
