

Student Ambassadors Inauguration 08

Joseph Chan

Welcome, dear Student Ambassadors, new and old
To a year of meaningful service with learning untold.
SA is more a profession or even vocation,
Though it comes with a mind-opening trip in summer vacation.
Helping the university in PR functions,
Taking each and every task with real passion.
Greeting all visitors with your heart,
So that to forget you becomes really hard.
Being master of ceremony is after all not so frightening,
If every word you utter is enlightening.
Public speaking will be a piece of cake,
Which you can eat even with one chopstick.
Conducting campus tour is such fun,
If it is not held under the scorching sun.
Community service is such delight,
But with other time demands you have to really fight.
Study well, play well, exercise well, and of course sleep well,
Or your mental and physical health can tell.
Your good looks may give your life a head start,
Only if you also possess a good heart.
Your quick tongue and sharp wit may initially impress,
Only if you have not been putting your brain to rest.
Keep abreast with your academic studies and current affairs,
Or globalization to you will mean despair.

Stick to your personal values and keep your professional ethics,
Though the world may seem to be just dollars and politics.
Once a SA, forever a SA,
Right from the beginning to you we say.
We, friends of SA, gather in this homely hall,
Happily, we wish you well and are confident that you will walk tall.
Be proud of yourself and our University.
Respect your profession and harmonize our community.
