
Fallen / Dr Tse Chung Alan

i can't give you my love though i have already loved you i can't take your love though the night has already fallen though your love will be short-lived that will last as long as the starlight that will wake up
at the break of dawn
but thank you for your love that shouldn't have been that will never be lived out or lived on i can't give you my missing though I am already missing you i can't promise forever cos forever is never quite around i am thinking of you in the small hours thinking
somewhere in your dream you are holding me tight murmuring sweet nothings that i can hear
in the distance
then i will lay down and tell the stars to sleep and feel the love that hates to wake up
at the break of dawn
